

Francesco Bartolucci talks about the services MGI Worldwide provides members, including marketing, quality control and brand support

A leading MGI Worldwide member has been interviewed in a professional training publication, talking about the partnership he has with our organisation. Francesco Bartolucci – the owner of Italian accountancy, legal and business advice firm Studio Pragma – gave the interview to Vision Pro.

Not only is Studio Pragma a member of MGI Worldwide in Europe, but Mr Bartolucci is also a leading figure in our organisation as the Chairman of our European Coordinating Committee. In the interview, he talked about the services that MGI Worldwide provides to our members, including marketing, quality control and brand support.

The interview was published in Vision Pro, which is a quarterly report produced by Italian professional training firm Euroconference.

Also, for anyone interested in learning more about the benefits of MGI Worldwide membership you can watch the video interview with Francesco Bartolucci.

Francesco Bartolucci talks about the services MGI Worldwide provides members, including marketing, quality control and brand support | 2

